

A photograph of a person's hands using a white glucose meter. The person is wearing a light blue sweater. The meter is held in the right hand, and the left hand is holding a finger, ready for a blood sample. A small, round, white device is visible on the table in front of the person. The background is blurred, showing a warm, indoor setting.

DIABETES CARE EVENT

