TAGLINE

Your local pharmacy[®]

This is the official brand tagline and should be used whenever possible in national marketing efforts, in conjunction with the brand logo. For example, it should be used in social media posts, digital media, and OOH.

SLOGAN

Feeling better starts here[®]

The slogan is supplementary and can be used in pharmacy design and local marketing materials. For example, it can be used in window graphics, on a pharmacy wall, or on a direct mailer.

Our members

Our members are licensed pharmacists who are drawn to a patient-centered pharmacy practice. They possess the best of both worlds: the independence of business ownership and the resources of a large network.

As locals in their communities, our members get to know their patients long-term. They are friendly, familiar faces in their neighbourhoods and they earn the trust of their patients by providing friendly, personalized health care.

Our patients

Doctor's disciple 65+

They are loyal patients who look to their pharmacist for guidance in managing their declining health. They are reactive to health problems and adhere to their medications. They are loyal and have complete and unquestioning confidence in their pharmacist.

Responsible proactive 55+

They are conscious of aging and try to proactively manage their health. They respect their pharmacist's advice but are informed and discerning. They want to plan an active role in their own well-being and establish a relationship with their pharmacist to help them do so.

Sandwich generation 40+

They care for their children and aging parents, while managing their own health. They juggle many responsibilities, so they seek efficiency. At the same time, they don't like to feel rushed when it comes to their health concerns. They want to be empowered to help manage their family's health.

Local marketing

When creating marketing materials, it is important to follow the guidelines described in this brand book. Materials that are consistent with brand guidelines protect the integrity of the banner brand as well as members' credibility and position as the local health expert.

The Marketing Toolbox is the one-stop-shop for branded, customizable marketing materials. Assets can be either printed and shipped to the pharmacy, or downloaded for local printing. To access the Marketing Toolbox, visit the McKesson portal and click on Marketing, then Marketing Toolbox.

For other marketing tools or further customization, our specialized local marketing team will be happy to assist you. Send an e-mail to marketing@mckesson.ca to get started.

Member social media profile

This is the standard for pharmacy-specific social media accounts. The profile photo should be the vertical stacked member logo, and can be generated and downloaded on the Marketing Toolbox. There are also several options for cover images available for download on the Marketing Toolbox.

The logo used on the website home page should be the approved member logo (see pg. 37-38). Any banner branding on the website must comply with all guidelines as outlined in this brand book.
